

Premium Photography Educational Program

From Steve Traudt, Synergistic Visions, Grand Junction

Have you been considering an expensive, out-of-state photography correspondence school? Do you want to make stronger images? Do you desire more personal attention? Have you considered photography as more than an hobby; possibly even a career? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then this new Educational Program is for you.

Take your photography to new heights with this special, "intensive care" program designed by professional photographer Steve Traudt. After an initial assessment meeting, you and Steve will map out a plan for you to attain your goals. You'll be able to understand and use your camera better. Create stronger images. Understand lighting, composition and design. Perhaps you need business advice. Photo shop and Lightroom training. Honest critiques. You'll control the direction your customized training takes. At the end of the 12 months, you'll have greatly enhanced skills and increased confidence.

Due to the intensive nature of this personalized instruction, only a limited number of memberships are available. Consider signing up soon.

The Fine Print...

Steve will be as flexible as possible. The 12 month period begins, and payment is due, at first meeting. The private sessions are at Steve's Grand Junction home office. If you need a session to be at your house, a small additional charge, based on travel distance, will apply. Benefits not used during the 12 months expire. No refunds made once program begins nor are benefits transferrable.
